IN THE LAST DITCH.

COMBINATION CROWD SEES THE HANDWRITING ON THE WALL.

ALL SORTS OF CHEAP DECEITS.

A CANDIDATE WHO BELONGS TO TWO ORGANIZATIONS.

One May Be Religious, but It Is Called by Another Name—One of the Latest Tricks of the Deeper-ate Combination Exposed.

The "combination" crowd can plainly see the handwriting on the wall, and its manipulators have already commenced to resort to all kinds of deceit and rascality with a hope of changing a few votes. One of the latest tricks to be perpetrated was on Charles Brown, the regular Democratic nominee for sheriff. Yesterday morning three prominent farmers drove up to Mr. Brown's house before he had eaten his breakfast. They were excited and at the same time were at first very angry.

"We understand," said one of the visitors, who has formed Mr. Brown's acquaintance since he became a candidate for sheriff, "that you have withdrawn from the ticket."

Mr. Brown was greatly surprised and asked his callers if they were sincere in what they said. He was informed that they were and demanded an explanation. Mr. Brown was told that the supporters of the mongrel crowd were circulating a report throughout the county that he had withdrawn in favor of Dudley. Brown could scarcely believe the report, as he had been employed by the mongrel crowd but an investigation yesterday morning revealed the truth. The remainder of the day was devoted to branding as a lie the story that had been circulated. Brown stated yesterday that he was still a candidate and that he was not a candidate in name.

Mr. J. D. Waters is being referred to in a very uncomplimentary way. He chances to be the "combination" candidate for a variety of deeds. It is represented that he belongs to two religious organizations. Of course no one would suspect it, and the chances are Mr. Waters would deny it if it was not so near the close of the campaign. The people who make a mistake often and walk right into a saloon. It is believed he would admit it is a terrible mistake. He has been granted a right to go out among the people, and if he cannot find the people at church, he is compelled to go some place else. A candidate looking for the dear people must go to the church, and if the people are assembled. There is no doubt Mr. Waters regrets as honestly as anyone that he can't find the dear people at the same time and at church, but he is not a manipulator of voters. He can't force them all to go to church, and he is over. Mr. Waters can go to just such places as please his own sweet will and will not be compelled to mingle with all the people.

WOMAN JOINTKEEPER.

Mrs. Louis Titus Found Guilty of Violating the Prohibitory Law.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Titus were found guilty in the court of common pleas yesterday of running a joint on Osage avenue. Mrs. Titus is the second woman to be convicted in this county on the charge of operating a joint. The penalty for the offense is a fine and not less than thirty days in the county jail.

Fred Niche was convicted on the charge of violating the prohibitory law. He formerly was engaged in the whisky business on North Third street.

The members of the Good Citizens' Club are feeling highly jubilant over the convictions secured. They claim that it shows that the people of this county will no longer submit to the open saloons which have been sanctioned by the authorities for years. Grubler's joint on Osage avenue and Kirby's joint on Reynolds avenue were moved out of town Tuesday night. The jointkeepers are thoroughly aware that the work of the Good Citizens' Club. Another crusade on the joints will likely take place within a few days.

CUT RATE MARRIAGES.

Probate Judge Herr Knocks Off Fifty Cents on a Fee, but Justice Whisner Goes Him Fifty Better.

The rivalry which exists between Probate Judge Herr, the justices of the peace and Justice Whisner in the matrimonial business in Kansas City, Kas., is still being fought out. Frank Leverich called at the probate judge's office yesterday and took out a license to wed Martha F. Bowman. The prospective groom had previously made arrangements with Justice Whisner to perform the ceremony. The justice's fee was to be $5. After Judge Herr had filed out the license and turned it over to Leverich he incidentally asked him if he had selected anyone to perform the ceremony. He informed the judge that he had engaged Justice Whisner, and that he was to do the job for $5.

"Why, my friend," remarked the judge, "the license costs you $2.50 and I will perform the ceremony for an even five—through you in a ceremony for $5. It includes license, ceremony—everything complete for $5."

The man who was to be married hesitated for a moment, and then that thought of economy which invades the mind of every newly married man struck him, and he consented to accept the judge's proposition with the view to saving the "half." Justice Whisner, who found him in his office awaiting the appearance of the bride and groom.

"So you get at last, did you?" spoke Justice Whisner. "I had about given you up. Where is the bride?" said Leverich, "but I guess I will have to disappoint you. The probate judge has promised to marry me for $2.50 if we call at his house to-night."

Justice Whisner was moved to wrath by the action of his competitor, Judge Herr, and, not to be outdone, he informed the man in love that he would marry him for an even $2. The man's license was discovered by Judge Herr, who had not signed it, hence the certificate was worthless. Justice Whisner muttered to himself that this was a trick of his rival, so he sent Leverich to the probate judge to get him a sign the certificate. Judge Herr informed him that it was a little oversight on his part, and he returned with his official signature to the license.

After he had signed the license Leverich imparted the news to the judge. He told him that Whisner had more than met the reduction made by him and that he would like to have him sign the certificate. Justice Whisner declined to do this, and the two men were united in marriage by Justice Whisner.

WOMAN TO FILL THE OFFICE.

The City Dog Enumerator Will Be Mrs. Sarah Richart, Who Works on a Per Cent.

Mrs. Sarah Richart has been appointed by Mayor Marshman to the office of city dog enumerator. This is a new municipal office, created by the council, and the fact that a woman is the first person to fill it has caused considerable comment.

The office was created for the benefit of the public library. Fifty per cent of the revenue derived from dog licenses is given to the city enumerator and 50 per cent to the library fund. The fees amount to nearly $2,000 per year and the city enumerator receives this amount if the dog enumerator accomplishes as much in the way of compelling citizens to take out dog licenses as is expected.

While the dog enumerator is to receive 50 per cent of the money received from dog licenses, this does not necessarily mean that this office is to get all of this money for her services. Mrs. Richart is the wife of the president of the Federation of Clubs, a public library.

KILLED BY ILLUMINATING GAS. Press Hamilton, the Victim of His Own Careless Idea or Design on His Own Life.

The dead body of Press Hamilton, a driver for the Mount Bros. Transfer company, was found yesterday morning in a room on the fourth floor of the corner of Fourth and State streets. The body was still warm when discovered, life having been extinct but a few minutes. Gas was found to be escaping from one of the burners, which had been partially turned off, but whether the gas had been left in position on purpose or by accident, is not known, and will probably always remain a mystery. Mr. Hamilton was a young man, and was quickly summoned, as it was first thought that he might be revived. They worked on him for nearly two hours, but failed to revive any sign of life. Hamilton was a native of Iowa, and had been working for the Mount Bros. for a number of years. He was unmarried and leaves a widowed mother, who lives at 1711 North Fifth street.

CRISIS IN AUSTRIA.

SUSPENSION OF THE CONSTITUTION REGARDED AS POSSIBLE.

HUNGARY WILL NOT REVOLT.

HERR FRANCIS KOSSUTH'S PROPOSITION REJECTED.

Hungarian Premier Refers to the Possibility of Absolutist Government in Austria, Following Breaking Down of the Constitution.

Vienna, Oct. 27.—The present deadlock in the reichsrath, owing to the German obstruction, has created a critical situation in some quarters a suspension of the Austrian constitution is being publicly discussed.

At today's session of the lower house, after an uproarous dispute between Dr. Krametz, the acting president, and the German opposition, the chamber adopted, by a large majority, the acting president's proposal to discuss the motion for the impeachment of the ministry at the morning sittings and to devote the evening to the bill for the extension of the compromise with Hungary for a year, the delay in adopting which is causing much resentment in Hungary and rendering the passage of the treaty by the Hungarian parliament extremely doubtful.

Yesterday, Oct. 27.—In the lower house of the Hungarian parliament to-day, Baron Banffy, the premier, made a long speech in support of the government's position. He declared that the ministry had no intention of turning Austria's difficulties unreasonably to the advantage of the Hungarians.

"The union of the two countries," he declared, "must be regarded as indissoluble. The Austrian constitutional system, which has been the basis of the Hungarian government, will be obliged to accept independently regarding the joint questions of the customs and commercial treaty between Austria and Hungary and of the charter and privileges of the Austro-Hungarian banks."

This announcement caused a great sensation in the lower house. Baron Banffy spoke with the calmness of the emperor's agent and that his statement points to the possibility of absolutist government in Austria.

ONE SIDED FIGHT.

A Well Dressed Colored Woman Clubbed by a Victorious Rival Yesterday.

There was a lively scrimmage yesterday afternoon at the Auditorium at the close of the matinee performance. A poorly dressed colored woman, with blood in her eye and a wound on her forehead, was seen to secure admission to the theater just as the performance was over. She was refused admission by the management, and while the argument was in progress a colored woman dressed in the height of fashion came down the steps into the rotunda. Out came the club mentioned above, and before the well-dressed woman knew where she was she was being assailed by the other woman.
